SAN IGNACIO LAGOON

The Most Extraordinary Whale Interaction on the Planet

La Paz Departure

BAJA EXPEDITIONS

Welcome to beautiful San Ignacio Lagoon! We hope you have an outstanding experience during your time here.

Whale Encounters

The most important part of your visit is your whale experience. For your safety, whale watching is weather-dependent and leaves from the beach in front of camp. There are up to 3 scheduled departures daily, with the first round in the morning for early risers. Your camp manager will discuss the timing at dinner every evening.

Camp Amenities

The village where you are staying is self-contained, including a dining tent and a club tent complete with honour bar. At the centre of camp, you will find a larger social and bar tent equipped with a pool table and a wide selection of beer, wine, and spirits. As well as, mountain bikes, volleyball, and pickleball. Kayaks and paddleboards are available just a short panga ride away in the mangroves across the lagoon. Don't forget to book your massage, or ask about tours of the local turtle sanctuary and visits to the nearby oyster farm.

Safety First

For your safety, our managers, naturalists and hosties are all trained in first aid. AEDs, medical oxygen, and trauma kits are located in the bar tent and onboard the panga flying the "Red Cross" flag. An ambulance is based at the clinic in the town of San Ignacio, 45 minutes away. Fire extinguishers are located in each tent, and a fire pump is next to the bar tent. A watchman will be on duty at night in case of any problems.

Weather

The weather can change suddenly at the Lagoon, ie. chilly and overcast in the morning, and then very warm by noon with clear skies and calm winds, and windy by late afternoon. Don't forget your complimentary "sea-safe" sunscreen, even on cloudy days when you go out on the water. Every day is different. We highly recommend layering up to stay warm when it's windy or cool and then you can strip down to a t-shirt when it warms up and the wind lies down. We have loaner windbreaker jackets available, as well as a full line of gift shop clothing, including fleece and warm jackets.

Safe in the Desert

While this is the desert, we generally don't have problems with scorpions, snakes or spiders. However, as a precaution, we suggest:

- Check your shoes before putting them on.
- Pull back the sheets on your bed to check before climbing in.
- Keeping your suitcase or bag zipped up.
- We highly recommend only wearing boots or closed-toe shoes in camp.

Whale Watching Guidelines

Please note that all the operators in the lagoon work together to maximize guest experience while ensuring no negative impact on the whales. For this reason, all whale encounters take place in a small, defined area of the lagoon. Pangas take turns entering the restricted area and for a maximum of 90 minutes. These schedules are coordinated in advance among the operators, which means we must abide by the set departure times. For this reason, we are unfortunately unable to offer "ad hoc" unscheduled whale watching departures.

We wish you the very best and a great San Ignacio adventure.

Mike Lever,

Proprietor, and your team at Baja Expeditions and Nautilus.

Day 1 - Meet the Gray Whales!

Your adventure begins with a private flight from La Paz to our airstrip at the Lagoon.

Please let us know which hotel you will be staying in to plan the pick-up time. Usually for hotel near La Paz downtown the pick-up is at 7 am, please be ready at 6.45 am, because the pick-up might slightly vary depending on the route of the day.

On arrival, our staff will meet you at the airstrip with welcoming smiles, glasses of champagne, and we will travel to camp for brunch and welcome aboard briefing. After brunch, you have the option of two whale watching encounters or enjoying camp. Cocktail hour. Watching the sunset around one of our fire pits. Presentation by one of our naturalists. Dinner..

Days 2-3 - San Ignacio Lagoon

All operators in the lagoon work together to maximize guest experience while ensuring no negative impact on the whales. For this reason, all whale encounters are in a small defined area of the lagoon with pangas taking turns entering the restricted area for a maximum of 90 minutes. The timing on this is worked out between the operators which means that we abide by scheduled departure times. For this reason, unfortunately, we can't just send a panga out to go whale watching whenever our guests want.

Option 1: 7 am breakfast after watching the sunrise over the sierras and then head out at 7:45 am for several whale watching encounters.

Option 2: Sleep in and relax. Breakfast between 7 am and 9 am. One more whale watching encounter at 2 pm.

After lunch, enjoy another whale watching encounter in the afternoon. Or as long as the weather cooperates, enjoy kayaking or paddleboarding the mangroves across the lagoon or a leisurely walk, mountain biking, walk along the shore, and bird watching with one of our naturalists or just kicking back, and relaxing. Cocktail hour, sunset viewing, making new friends around one of our fire pits, a game of billiards and an evening presentation by a naturalist are all fine ways to finish off your day in camp.

Day 4 - Return to Cabo or La Paz

Early breakfast. One more whale watching encounter (always weather dependent) and then the beautiful flight back to SJD Los Cabos. Arriving 1 pm. If you are flying home this day, we recommend not booking a flight departure before 2:45 pm. Otherwise transfer back to SeeCreatures Cabo.

Returning to La Paz? No worries — after the drop-off in Cabo, our charter will continue to La Paz to conclude the trip. Since air traffic in Cabo can often be quite heavy, it's not possible to set an exact ETA for the arrival in La Paz, but we'll get you there as soon as possible.

ABOUT GRAY WHALES

Will I see gray whales on this trip?

Yes! There are lots of whales in the lagoon and typically 300 to 400 are friendly and interactive with humans. Gray whales first arrive in the lagoon in December and are present through May. There is seasonality to the sightings. More mating activity happens at the beginning of the season and this is when we see newborn calves. The mamas and calves stay in the lagoon until the babies are big enough to safely make the 3000-mile northward trek to BC and Alaska. Towards the end of the season, the calves can be especially friendly.

Why are we trying to touch the whales? Is this bad for them?

Encounters and interactions with them are entirely on the whales' terms. We only interact with the whales in a small designated area and are very careful to stay away from them in the rest of the lagoon. The whales who are interested in humans literally swim over to this area and approach the pangas. The encounters are not forced in any way. The local captains are very careful not to approach or harass the gray whales. One of the extraordinary things about this interaction is that the whales only approach humans in Baja lagoons. During the rest of the year they are quite shy and reclusive and maintain the normal distance that you would expect between whales and nearby boats.

Interesting to note that gray whales were known as "devil fish" because during the terrible days of industrial whaling, harpooned gray whales would turn around and attack the whalers. Sometimes managing to sink the whaling boats and kill the whalers. All of that changed in 1972 when whaling was outlawed virtually everywhere in the world, and a local fisherman named Pachico felt an irresistible urge to reach out and touch a whale that presented itself beside his boat. We suspect that both Pachico and the whale were astonished by the interaction. Within a year, four whales and a handful of fishermen were interacting with each other. The behaviour we are so lucky to enjoy now grew from those first encounters.

How much whale watching is included in my trip?

Typically two afternoon whale watching encounters on the first day in the lagoon. Opportunity for two morning sessions and an afternoon session on day two and three in the lagoon. And one morning session before flying out on day four in the lagoon. Not all guests choose to do this much whale watching. It's entirely your option. It is important to note that it can be windy sometimes in the lagoon, which might limit the number of whale encounters that day. Rest assured that we always do our very best for you.

Important to note that the whale watching takes place entirely in one designated area with a maximum of 16 boats at one time. This means that when the lagoon is at its busiest. Each panga can stay in the reserve for 90 minutes maximum and then needs to exit to allow another panga to enter.

What kind of boats do you use for whale watching?

Whale watching excursions take place on "panga" boats typically 24 - 28-ft in length. While these boats can easily accommodate up to 12 guests, we do our best to run with just 6 to 7 guests plus a captain and a naturalist whenever possible. Please note that operational realities in the lagoon may mean that sometimes we have to run with more guests in the pangas. The operation of these boats is a joint venture with the local captains and fishermen which we see as eco-tourism at its finest. Some of our pangas are brand new, purchased by BajaEx, and leased back to local captains for one dollar per year to help them maximize their earnings with the nicest possible boats.

Pangas are widely used throughout Baja and known for their sea kindness and efficiency coupled with a good amount of speed. Interestingly, the design dates back to a 1970s project and joint venture between Yamaha outboards and the world bank. The design brief was to build a fast and efficient boat for the local fishermen. The name "panga" evolves from the panga fish that the boats were originally designed to fish for.

My mobility is somewhat impaired. Will I have any trouble boarding the pangas?

No, we have wooden boarding ramps with handrails on both sides of the ramp which make the pangas quite accessible.

I have a bad back. Is this a problem?

No. Just please let us know ahead of time. We have a limited number of comfortable special chairs that we can rig up in your panga.

Can I drink onboard the pangas?

Due to regulations and safety reasons, drinking alcoholic beverages is not allowed during whale watching activities.

WHAT TO BRING

What should I pack?

We strongly recommend bringing layered clothing. It's not uncommon to be wearing a shirt, several sweaters and a windbreaker at 7am and then just a t-shirt by noon. Rain is very uncommon in this area, with the exception of one or two Pacific clouds that pass through every season. Rubber boots are an excellent idea. We have loaner boots and jackets available for everybody.

Comfortable clothes for camp: cotton T-shirts, long sleeve shirts, warm sweaters, shorts and pants, windbreaker, many people bring waterproof pants, a warm jacket, warm sleepwear, lots of extra warm socks, tennis or hiking shoes, water friendly sandals, dry bag, flashlight, sun hat, sea safe sunblock, personal medications, and a camera with loads of SD cards.

Can I bring my own beer, wine or alcohol into camp?

Sorry, no. For liability reasons, we are not able to allow any outside alcohol into camp. We stock one heck of a bar with a great selection of craft beer, wine, single malt scotch, fine vodkas and much more all at very reasonable prices. We know that you're on vacation. We want you to have a great time and that includes a great selection of drinks at lowest possible pricing.

Do I need to bring my passport?

Entry into Mexico requires a passport that still has six months of validity.

Do I need a visa?

Mexico requires visas from a certain but small number of countries. Please double check your specific requirements online or contact us for assistance.

Do I need medical evacuation insurance?

Yes. Because of the remote location of the camp, medical evacuation insurance is required for all guests. We can assist with a purchase of this insurance and it's very affordable. Click here.

Should I buy travel interruption insurance?

Yes, highly recommended. We have seen too many guests with a cancelled or delayed flight or problems at work or some other reason for a trip being delayed or cancelled.

CAMP DETAILS

What are the tents like?

The short answer is pretty darn luxurious! Most of our glamping tents are Weatherhavens which are well known from expeditions as far as the Arctic and all the way south of Antarctica. Each tent has adjustable twin beds or one quasi king and an ensuite bathroom and shower. 24-hour Alternative Current power. Lights. Heat. Hot and cold running water. Internet access. And of course, a chandelier over the bed.

Our luxury tents are considerably larger with adjustable twin beds or one king bed. As well as a sitting area with couches and chairs, a dresser, and a much larger bathroom even including twin vanities.

We also have a limited number of family tents which are the same size as the luxury tents, except the sitting area is replaced with extra beds for kids and teens.

Double-size tents are used for the different dining areas and bar.

Is there Internet access in camp?

WiFi is available for your convenience. Starting in 2025, there will be a charge of $25 per device per trip. We use Starlink Internet and ask everyone to please be considerate of how much data you use so that everyone has reasonable access.

Is there a 24 hour power in our tent?

Yes!

How often can I shower?

Every tent has a full ensuite with hot and cold running water. There is ample water in camp for everyone to take a hot shower every day. But we do ask you to limit it to one shower because water is a very precious commodity in the desert.

Is there anything to do in camp other than whale watching?

Yes! Of course! Our camp is located on the beachfront right on the lagoon in the Vizcaino desert and biosphere reserve. It's a gorgeous setting. Watching the sun come up over the Sierras, the mountains, in the morning is stunning. Watching the sunset over the desert at the end of the day is good for the soul and very beautiful. The desert is a quiet and still place but there is lots to do from birdwatching to kayaking, paddle boarding, star gazing under the spectacular Mexican night sky to the billiards table and volleyball court that we set up in camp.

Will it be quiet in camp or will a generator be droning away?

Our eco-experience camp is silent but don't be fooled! We have 24-hour Alternative Current power.

Are kids and teens welcome in camp?

Yes! One of our luxury camps and our salty dog bar is reserved for adults only. Kids and teens are welcome everywhere else. We do have special family tents with convertible futons in leau of a sitting area.

Are mosquitoes and bugs a problem?

Spiders, black widows, and scorpions can be found in the area. If you are allergic to any of these, please bring your epipen. While they aren't typically a problem, it's a good idea to keep your tent zipped up at all times—to keep out both critters and coyotes!

What happens in the case of an emergency?

Our camp operates with the same emergency preparedness and protocols as our ocean-going liveaboard ships. You can be sure that our camp will be stocked with an AED, emergency oxygen and extensive first-aid equipment and that we have trained "first responders" on site. In the very unlikely event of a medical emergency, medevac flights are available to an acute care hospital in Cabo.

MORE ADVENTURES

What can I do in La Paz before or after my visit to the Lagoon?

Plenty!!! Take a day trip to the Sea of Cortez with us and swim with whale sharks (weather permitting), snorkel with sea lions, spend a day kayaking around the Unesco World Heritage site, Isla Espiritu Santo, or a day at Balandra Beach or a couple of days in our eco-experience camp. For divers, we have daily departures for 2 and 3 tankers out of Cabo, day trips to Cabo Pulmo and for more experienced divers, the sea mounts at Gordo Banks. For non-divers, ask about our Discover Scuba intro. Of course, the ultimate activity is to charter our 45-ft luxury sailing catamaran in the Sea of Cortez or join one of our liveaboard trips.

Can I make this a longer trip? What activities are available if I fly in early?

We have loads of different activities on offer as pre-and post trip extensions. From our very popular Baja Ultimate Whales that adds a complete package, from swimming with whale sharks and sea lions to cruising on our expedition yacht looking for mama and baby humpback whales, finback whales, huge pods of dolphins and much more. To day trips that might include an Introduction to Scuba, snorkelling with whale sharks, kayaking adventures, lots of different options for certified scuba divers, Mobula and Orca Ocean Safaris, multi-day sailing, or eco-experience camp, and to our extremely popular expeditions to Socorro Island.

Heavenly Massage Therapy at San Ignacio

It's not just the whales that are extraordinary at San Ignacio Lagoon, enjoying a massage here is pretty darn heavenly as well! Massages can be arranged directly with our masseuse or with any of our camp staff. We strongly encourage pre-booking, as appointments tend to fill up fast.

Relaxation Massage

Duration: 50 minutes | Price: US$75

Our “classic” and most popular massage, this gentle full-body treatment using long, flowing strokes, kneading, and circular motions to calm the nervous system, relieve stress, ease muscle tension, improve circulation, and promote overall well-being, focusing on relaxation rather than deep therapeutic work for injuries.

Deep Tissue Massage

Duration: 80 minutes | Price: US$120

Our most popular longer massage this therapeutic technique focuses on realigning deeper muscle layers and connective tissues to relieve chronic pain, stiffness, and tension. Using slow, deep strokes and intense pressure with fingers, thumbs, elbows, or forearms to break down adhesions (knots) and improve circulation. This massage is more intense than the relaxation massage.

Hot Stone Massage

Duration: 90 minutes | Price: US$200

Experience the benefits of geothermal therapy by combining therapeutic massage with the use of hot and cold stones. These stones are placed at chakra points to ensure proper energy flow, relieving discomfort and enhancing overall well-being. The volcanic origin of the stones not only improves your energy flow but also allows your body to absorb the earth's natural energy.

Cupping Massage

Duration: 90 minutes | Price: US$200

Cupping therapy is an ancient technique known for its multiple benefits, including pain relief, alleviating muscle tightness, stress reduction, and skin rejuvenation. By increasing blood flow and expelling toxins, this treatment helps alleviate muscle tension and promote overall relaxation and renewal.

Our Responsibilities, Your Responsibilities

Our Responsibilities

- To ensure your safety.
- To give you the best possible experience.
- To treat you with respect and consideration and to provide excellence in service.
- To be responsive to special requests and needs.
- To plan each trip with respect to weather, sea conditions and animal behavior in order to maximize your experience.

Your Responsibilities

1. Animals

We love Mother Ocean! Unfortunately, sometimes guests will demonstrate unsafe or irresponsible behavior towards animals that impedes other guests' experiences and/or may cause harm to the animals. It is your responsibility to follow the staff's directions and recommendations with respect to interaction with the animals. In the unlikely event that an individual is impeding other guests and/or causing harm to the animals, the camp manager will speak to that person and give them a formal warning. If the guest continues the same behavior, the camp manager has the authority to hold that guest off the water for the remainder of the trip.

2. Alcohol

With over 30 years of operational experience, we have learned the safest alcohol policy is to restrict guests from bringing their own alcohol to the campsite. We provide a wide selection of beer, wine and alcohol at our bar at reasonable prices. We are also happy to hold your duty-free purchases or local purchases of alcohol in bond with your luggage in La Paz until the end of your trip. Due to regulations and your safety, drinking alcohol during whale watching is prohibited.

3. Government Rules

You must comply with all Mexican government rules and regulations. Please note that government regulations and laws may change without notice. Our contract with you is subject to "force majeure" without compensation.

4. Marijuana

Marijuana is illegal in Mexico including medicinal prescription marijuana. We have a zero tolerance policy regarding guests bringing marijuana to our camp.

5. Illegal Substances

We maintain a zero tolerance for illegal narcotics or substances. We're required under Mexican law to report any problems to the Mexican Federal Police.

6. Staff

Treating our staff with courtesy and respect.

7. Getting Sick

We sincerely hope that you stay healthy and don't get sick during your trip. Please let the crew know if you are not feeling well so that we can give you extra love and attention and also do our best to prevent anyone else in camp from getting sick.

A Note on Gratuities

I hope we have left you with the feeling that our crew has served you with warmth, good cheer, and has done their very best to ensure your safety and excellence in guest services. I am incredibly proud of our hardworking and dedicated staff.

For your guidance, most guests choose to leave a gratuity of US$250–$300, noting of course that this is entirely discretionary. Our local panga captains are part of a much larger team that supports every whale expedition. However, if you are so inclined, the captains have asked us to pass along their request to please be tipped separately. This is, of course, completely up to you.

Your feedback is vitally important to us and always very much appreciated. I would really appreciate any comments or thoughts you might share. Simply click on “Your Feedback” on the camp Wi-Fi portal to share your thoughts.

On a personal note and as my thanks to you, I invite you to join our Last Minute Club, exclusively for repeat clients. Members receive incredible savings of up to 75% on last-minute adventures, offered 3 or 4 times a year. If you love awesome deals, simply click on “Last Minute” on the camp Wi-Fi portal to sign up.

Thank you very much for trusting us with your vacation!

Sincerely,

Mike Lever
